

Annual Spring Classic Model Show CAMS 2010 Wrap Up

Welcome to CAMS 2010 is what the sign on the big truck on the first table. And that's what the Capital Area Modellers Society did again this year at our 22nd Annual Spring Classic Model Show.

This year CAMS welcomed 77 modellers to the Show with more than 200 models of all classes competing for the Dr. Bob McNutt Memorial Award for Best in Show. The caliber of the models this year was exceptional with more than 60 Gold medals being awarded along with numerous Silver and Bronze medals

Check out the show pictures some of the models were truly in a class of their own.

As visitors to the website may know, this year was the first year of what we hope, will be an expanding program working with Air Cadets, specifically the 333 Lord Beaverbrook Air Cadet Squadron. The work of some of the Air Cadets was featured front and center in our growing Junior and Intermediate categories. It is rewarding to see interest from other Cadet groups in the local area has been growing.

Bill Daisley oversaw the Make & Take program again this year, where many new junior builders tried their hand at building an A-10 Thunderbolt. According to the comments and the reports there were a lot of happy builders.

This was the smoothest show that CAMS has had in the last few years: no computer crashes, no Best Ford awarded to a Chev and some of the other unmentionable disasters for history. This was due in large part to the dedicated work of many CAMS members, their significant others, and members from other clubs who freely helped out when asked. A special thank you goes out to Cadets Hannah Gorham, Yien Comeau, Wilson Carruthers, and Josh Charleton of 333 Squadron for their help.

Our sponsors stepped up again this year providing us with some great prizes for all the draws and this was the first year that many of our major awards were sponsored by local businesses. There isn't enough room to mention them all here, but you can find a complete sponsor list on our website. Please take the time to check out their sites or send them a thank you.

One final thought for this year is that the success of the show is not just due to the work of the sponsors, volunteers and club members but also the modellers without whom there would be no show. Your participation, comments and suggestions help us put on the 'Best Little Show' around and we thank you.
